The World is Full of Beauty.

CARDS original in the bighest style of the art-

BY ORRALD WATERY. There lives a voice within me, a guest-angel of my heart; And its sweet lispings win me till the tears a-trembling start. Up evermore it springeth, like some magic mel-dy, And evermore it singeth this sweet song of songe to me; This world is full of beauty, as other worlds above ;

If faith and hope and kindness passed, as coin, 'twixt heart

How through the eye's tear-blindness should the sudden soul The dreasy, dim, and desolate should wear a sunny bloom,

And love should spring from buried hate like flowers from win-

This world is full of beauty, as other worlds above;

And, if we did one duty, it might be fuil of love.

And, if we did our duty, it might be full of love. With truth our uttered language, angels might talk with men,

And, God-illumined, earth should see the golden age again; The burthened heart should sour in mirth, like morn's young ning spark. The world is full of beauty, as other worlds above ; And, if we did our duty, it might be full of love.

The leaf-tongues of the forest, and the flower-lips of the sod, The happy hinds that bymn their raptures in the ear of God. The summer wind that bringeth music over land and sea-Have each a voice that singeth this sweet song of songs to me : This world is full of beauty, as other worlds above; And, if we did our duty, it might be full of love.

my arm and jine in the procession." Loving Liberty .- Paris conversation: " Are you a Liberal?" said a deputy to his friend. "Oh, no!" was the reply. " But you love liberty, at least?" "Yes, assuredly, my faith. But one may love an omelette without being a cook." A cotemporary has the following on the marriage of a dear friend: "He stepped upon the hymeneal platform, adjusted the fatal noose, and was swung off into the unsilent bourne whence he can never return save by the decease of Mrs. M'Clum." TURNING THE TABLES .- A naughty boy said to his mother, "You see ma, you're always telling me to behave as well to the family as I do to company; but why don't you behave the same to me as you do to company, and ask me to have another piece of pie, or some more of the pudding?" Sydney Smith made it a rule never to speak a word to his neighbor at dinner, but fire across the table, though he once broke the rule when hearing a lady who sat next to him say, in a low, eweet voice, "No gravy, sir." He suddenly t rned round, and said, " Madam, I have been

When the fire was sweeping through Pearl street, in Boston, one of the largest shoe dealers, seeing that his stock could not be saved, invited the bystanders to help themselves. A policeman, who appeared on the spot, not advised of the invitation, indignantly observed an individual pulling pairs of boots from a case before him. "Villain! he thundered, "what are you about?" "Trying to find a pair of eights!" was the response. Essay on the Cow .- The jokers are not all dead yet. A Hampshire wag put the following advertisement in a weekly paper: " Who wants to buy a new milch cow, that is every way kind, only five years old, and gives fifteen quarts of milk to a milking?-Jack Rogers." The next week Mr. Rogers received not less than fifty applications through the paper for the cow, which were answered thus:-" If I hear of any such cow, I will let you know immediately. Yours truly, J. Rogers.

RATHER TAKE IT Noo .- " Go to bed, sir, in the closet there!" said an enraged father to his son, who had given him just cause of offence. "Were it not that these gentlemen are present, I would give you a sound whipping; but you shall have it before breakfast." The little culprit went to bed with a beating heart, and the enjoyments of the party were continued to a late hour. Just when the party was about to break up, the closet door was pushed gently open, and the little offender thrust out his curly head, and, with a face glistening with recent tears, desired that the sentence might be put in immediate execution-" Father, would you just gie me my licks noo, for I canna sleep without them." Beecher said, the other night, that judging from the applications he received daily from young men out of work, it must be the general impression that he owned Central Park, Prospect Park, the custom-house, navy-yard and postoffice. He did not hold up his bands and austerely say, "Young men, go west;" but many of them had rushed away from their fathers' farms before they had learned to work; many of them were of a sort that would starve on a hundred acres of good Soda Water and Ginger Pop. land, be without shelter in a lumber-yard, and be barefooted if they owned all the leather in New is noted the world over for general salubrity, while certain particular localities in the group are more especially favorably known. The district of Kona, on the lee side of Hawaii, has long been famed as a place of resort for those afflicted with affections of the lungs. Not a few cases have been known of persons who had been given over as sure to die, by their physicians in California, after a few months residence in the pure, mild air of Kona, recovering few months residence in the pure, mild air of Kona, recovering robust health and taking a new lease of life.

The undersigned, at his commodious house at Kaawaloa, South Kona, is prepared to furnish good accommodations to boarders at the low rate of $5 per week; including good saddle horses when desired, and good fresh water baths, on the premises, also within a short distance of fine sea bathing. The reamer Kilauea runs regularly between Honolulu and the port of Kaawaloa, and horses are kept ready at the beach. Every accommodation and comfort in the way of diet. MILK and HONEY in abundance. Delightful rides in the neighborhood.
